

INTERIOR DESIGN

Interior design is all about creating a beautiful, soulful space, a space we can truly connect with. It has the ability to touch us deeply and transform us spiritually and emotionally.

STYLE. COLOUR. SPACE.

1. Style - Luxury Classic:

Because of its heavy luxury style, this living room looks like the Galactic Central Point – the only immobile point in the Universe. Its focal point is the burning fireplace, bringing feeling of warmth, home, company and rest. When it comes to relaxing, solid furniture has been selected with a matching table of ornately carved wood. Still life artwork, lamps, flowers and decorative pieces bring character to the room.

2. Colour – Bold and Beautiful

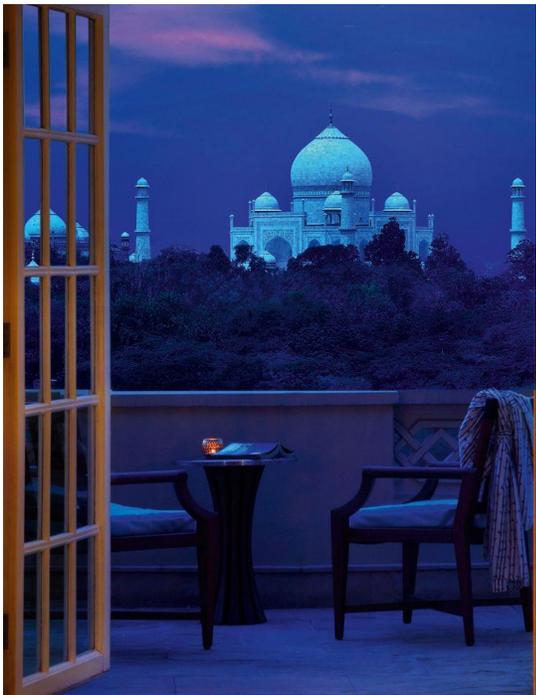

To allow beauty in our homes we need to learn to feel colors. Color is something very personal.

Pablo Picasso said: “Why do two colors, put one next to the other, sing? Can one really explain this?”

Bright blue, duckling yellow and pure pink do form a beautiful symphony in this interior design.

Flowers are always a pretty decorative accent. Pink flowers stand for new beginnings and tender passions. This color conveys the sweetness of feminine energy, and happy romance.

3. Space – A Room With A View:

That's how you live big in a small space. The best window treatment is always the view. Near the window you can relax, read, drink a cup of tea, or just look at the scenery. This can become your favorite place in the world. What surrounds your home is just as substantial as what is in it. Work on that lawn, trim the grass regularly and you will enjoy the beauty of nature at your doorstep, or from your dining room window.

You should fill the indoor space with things that are beautiful and useful, nothing else. The elements which make an interior space sleek and pretty are rugs, wall treatments, furniture and colors, artwork and window views. The architect Stanley Abercrombie once advised the architecture students at MIT to design their windows, as if the girls they loved were sitting in them. Apply this attitude to the design of your home as well, for there is no place like home.
